

CFY/SPC Scholarship Points and Pointers

The following Points and Pointers was developed to provide each applicant with insight into the evaluation process of the CFY/SPC Scholarship Committee. Please read and remember these points and suggestions as you fill out your application. You are not required to take any of this into consideration. Best of Luck and we are looking forward to assisting you on your educational journey.

This scholarship application is about you. While the evaluators appreciate everything your parents and family have done for you (so have the other applicants) it is assumed that they have and will help you however they can. Relieving the financial burden on them is understood. The Committee is interested in how this scholarship will impact you and help you fulfill your educational dreams.... the questions about financial "need" will provide the Committee with the information in this area. Focus on you.

The information on the CFY/SPC Scholarship Narrative document may be very helpful for you in filling out your application. You are provided with a good explanation of some important information to consider.

Take into consideration the amount of time and "best effort" you are putting into this application. You are asking CFY/SPC for up to $9,000 to assist you on your educational journey. By paying for your tuition and books for two years. That is a big ask and your commitment to putting in the appropriate thought and effort to explain you and your personal situation is what will distinguish your application from others. Cutting and pasting from previous applications does get noticed by the Committee and graded accordingly based upon your effort.

Get to know CFY and the organization (review the rest of the website) as it will provide you with helpful information on what is important to the CFY organization and provide you with guidance to help you provide a complete picture to the Committee on why you should be selected.

CFY's primary focus (63% of CFY funding goes towards) is Youth Athletics, Water Safety, and Arts and Culture for underserved youth. This is in addition to Education (23%). Keep these in mind as they have impacted your life and help shape your values going forward and your educational journey and your completion of the application.

As noted in the previous point, youth athletics is CFY's bread and butter so how that may have shaped your life as a participant, mentor, volunteer, or fan is of interest and important to the Committee.

While this is the first year of this program, CFY has been providing post-secondary educational opportunities for years for Pinellas County youth. Annually between 125 - 150 applicants apply each year, and it grows so your best effort is what will provide you success as it is very competitive.

CFY/SPC Scholarship Points and Pointers

With currently $300,000 invested in 50 students from our last two cycles (2022 & 2023) with the ROJ Post Secondary Scholarship Program, CFY also has partnered with the Pinellas Education Foundation and has provided $100,000 which has been matched over the past two years for their Take Stock in Children initiative. This provides an additional 22 students and makes CFY's current commitment of 72 children for $500,000.

Scholarship Committee and Board of Trustees are involved as they “pay it forward” because someone or an organization assisted them on their journey. Important information as to the why they are involved and how you may look at your long-term commitment to this program and education opportunities in Pinellas County.
